

STANLEY® Wins A 2024 Pro Tool Innovation Award

The STANLEY Pass-Through Hollow Core Nut Driver was selected as the ‘Best Nut Driver’ in the award-winning hand tools category

TOWSON, MD., Sept. 26, 2024— STANLEY, a Stanley Black & Decker brand (NYSE: SWK) and leader in tape measures and residential tool solutions, has received a 2024 Pro Tool Innovation Award for its STANLEY Pass-Through Hollow Core Nut Driver. The award program recognizes the best-in-class products across the construction, landscaping, automotive and manufacturing industries.

Pro Tool Innovation Award editors and judges evaluated nearly 400 tools from over 100 manufacturers to determine this year's winners. Winning products were selected based on innovative features like ergonomics, technological advancements, and exceptional value.

The STANLEY Pass-Through Hollow Core Nut Driver was selected for its ability to work with deep threaded nuts that standard tools cannot reach. Engineered with a multi-spline socket head, the tool provides access to bolts in tight spaces and the hollow core design allows professionals to work with deeply threaded fasteners that are usually difficult to reach. For added durability and comfortability while in use, the STANLEY Pass-Through Hollow Core Nut Driver features a chrome finish and an ergonomic handle to aid hand grip.
